Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 15 and 18 are again rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Marbach.

Marbach teaches a faceplate (6) having an outer periphery (Fig. 3), an inner periphery (11), means for securing the faceplate to a pool sidewall (col. 3, lines 46-50), a first arm (top wall 14) projecting toward the skimmer housing, a second arm perpendicular thereto (rear wall 14), and a third arm (support means near bottom 15; col. 4, lines 26-31) perpendicular to the second arm projecting away from the skimmer housing (Fig. 2).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed February 22, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Marbach does not teach or suggest a faceplate of the conventional skimmer which is used on pools that require winterizing as disclosed and claimed in the present application. However, it is noted that applicant does not claim a "conventional" skimmer requiring "winterizing". Accordingly, as applicant is arguing a limitation not claimed, the argument fails to patentably distinguish the over the prior art.

Applicant argues that element 15 is well past the faceplate opening of the skimmer. However, it is noted that the element 15 is integrally connected to the faceplate. Further, it is noted that applicant makes no claim regarding a desired proximity of the support means to the faceplate opening. Accordingly, as applicant is arguing limitations not claimed, the argument fails to patentably distinguish the over the prior art.

Applicant argues that one element cannot be perpendicular to itself. However, it is noted that the examiner has not indicated that the element is perpendicular to itself, but, rather, the elements has arms which are perpendicular to each other. Accordingly, the argument fails to patentably distinguish the over the prior art.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-14 are allowed.
5. Claims 16-17 and 19-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
